【About “Find-Your-Role-Model” session】

We have been holding a series of events called “Find-Your-Role-Model” Session to provide students with opportunities to interact with TMDU alumni and world-wide leaders in health sciences. Through this roundtable-type, relaxed atmosphere event, we hope students will be able to find their role models in order to facilitate their career development in becoming future global leaders.

【About this Session】

In the seventh Find-Your-Role-Model session of academic year 2015 we will be hosting Dr. Matthew Weinstock, a Chief Medical Resident of the Internal Medicine training program at Brigham and Women's Hospital, an affiliate of Harvard Medical School. Previous to this Dr. Weinstock served as a Hematology/Oncology fellow at Beth Israel Deaconess Hospital. This session will be carried out in a round-table discussion format, and will cover the following points. Everyone is welcome to join us in a hearty discussion.

- Undergrad majors and their influence on medical careers
- Popular medical specialties for new grads in the U.S.
- Reasons behind choosing a career in hematology/oncology
- Chief resident’s responsibilities and experiences
- Working on the NEJM Clinical Problem Solving and Interactive Medical Cases team

【Eligibility】

- Open to all students, residents, post-docs, and faculties

Especially for those interested in an academic career in medicine in the United States!

【Discussion style】

- The guest will share his career experiences; then move on to the roundtable discussion.
- Language(s): English

Matthew Weinstock, MD
