【About “Find-Your-Role-Model” Session】

We have been holding a series of events called “Find-Your-Role-Model” Session to provide students with opportunities to interact with TMDU alumni and worldwide leaders in health sciences. Through this roundtable-type, relaxed atmosphere event, we hope students will be able to find their role models in order to facilitate their career development in becoming future global leaders.

【About this Session】

In the fourth FYRM session of academic year 2017 we will be hosting Dr. Kevin Ard, a graduate of Washington University School of Medicine, and Harvard School of Public Health. He is an infectious diseases and HIV specialist who did his residency, fellowships in ID and HIV, and served as Chief Medical Resident at Brigham and Women’s Hospital. He is currently actively involved in teaching and clinical work. This session will be carried out in a round-table discussion format, and will cover the following points. Everyone is welcome to join us in a hearty discussion.

- Dr. Ard’s career and future goals
- His motivation as an infectious diseases specialist
- Fields where and ways that infectious disease specialists can be active
- Necessary skills for active participation on a global scale
- Timeline for when to acquire an MPH and subsequent career goals

【Eligibility】

- Open to all students, residents, post-docs, and faculty

Please join us to learn more about infectious disease treatment, clinical care and teaching in the US, with a special focus on research, treatment and care of HIV infection.

【Discussion style】

- The guest will share his career experiences, then move on to the roundtable discussion.
- Language(s): English
